Workera's Standardized Tests for AI Skills

Congratulations on completing the Deep Learning Specialization! We hope you've learned a ton.

If you're thinking about what's next in your AI journey, we suggest that you take a look at Workera which is deeplearning.ai's affiliate company building standardized tests for AI skills.

On Workera, you will be able to evaluate yourself with a series of standardized tests spanning AI skills, including deep learning. Then, you'll analyze your test performance to know where you stand in the AI community, learn which AI career tracks are available, and obtain a performance certificate to share with an employer.

And, it's free. Your results are private unless you request to be referred to a company in Workera's network.
